

Marlee Norris is currently serving you as the WV FFA Southwestern Region State Vice President. The purpose of the FFA is make a positive difference in the lives of others while teaching the importance of leadership. Throughout the organization, we develop interpersonal skills such as teamwork, communication and human relations. Becoming a state officer has inspired her outlook on a variety of agricultural topics. Marlee is currently a senior at Cabell Midland High School. Coming from a large school, she received the opportunity to teach others the true importance of agricultural. Especially, her passion for the agricultural industry. She has shown her knowledge and skills throughout My SAE's, they consist of multiple diversified livestock productions, which includes breeding and market projects. Over the years, her experience in the FFA has molded her into who she is today. She is forever grateful for this organization and the opportunities within. In the fall of 2021, Marlee plans to further her academic research at the WVU Statler College of Engineering and Natural Resources. Her dream occupation is to become an agricultural engineer. Providing her previous experience, she has hopes of furthering her passion in the agricultural industry, planning to make a positive impact on the world.

